Economic Wellbeing

Money and wellbeing: Money helps us pay for things we need and want, but having more money does not always mean being happier.

Money and the environment: We can help others and the planet by donating unwanted items, recycling and supporting charities.

Ways to pay: People can pay using cash, bank cards, contactless payments or online banking.

Work and careers: Stereotypes can unfairly influence ideas about jobs. Job choices can depend on interests, skills, qualifications, location and salary. Salaries are the money people earn for their work.
